

In addition, it would mean there would be more money available to dedicate to people experiencing poverty.

In summary, whilst poverty is a huge challenge to take on, ensuring equal access for those with disabilities and learning difficulties could be one small way to help reduce poverty.

CIELL Inclusive English Language Learning

<https://ciell.eu>

Funded by the Erasmus+ Programme of the European Union

This research and development project was co-funded by the ERASMUS+ Programme of the European Union under grant number 2018-1-UK01-KA203-048195 and partners Lancaster University (UK), University of Cyprus (Cyprus), Friedrich-Alexander Universität (Germany), and AKTO (Greece).

This publication reflects the views only of the authors, and the Commission cannot be held responsible for any use, which may be made of the information contained therein.

This work is licenced under creative commons BY-NC-ND 4.0

Author: Helena Stakounis • Illustrations: Eleni Tsampra

