Arrangers

Jack Hylton's arrangers in chronological order of when they first started working and recording with him (Rust, Brian and Forbes, Sandy, 1989. British dance bands on record, 1911 to 1945. Harrow: General Gramophone Publications). Most arrangers stayed with Hylton for several years.

Arrangers were often also instrumentalists in the band. See full list of band members for more information.

Band Members (Alphabetical List)

Alphabetical list of members of bands directed or managed by Jack Hylton.

In 1920, Hylton started to work for the Queen's Dance Orchestra in London. He was forced out of the band a year later, but came back a few weeks later to direct the Orchestra under the new name of Jack Hylton & His Orchestra.

From c.1938, Hylton also managed two other bands, one toured under direction of Freddy Bretherton in BAND WAGON revue and the other under Billy Ternent. In 1940 Hylton disbanded Jack Hylton & His Orchestra as he moved into production.
